FORT TICONDEROGA

The mission of Fort Ticonderoga is to preserve, educate, and provoke active discussion about the past and its importance to present and future generations. We foster an on-going dialogue surrounding citizens, soldiers, and nations through America's military heritage.

Front and back cover images:

Portraits of Colonel Robert Knox and Sarah Hollingshead Knox, Charles Willson Peale, Philadelphia, c.1780, Fort Ticonderoga Museum Collection (PEM 92, PEM 95). Robert Knox and Sarah Hollingshead were married in 1779. Robert served until 1780 in the Philadelphia militia when these portraits were likely painted by the famous artist Charles Willson Peale.

Cartridge Box Badge, c.1772-1775, Fort Ticonderoga Museum Collection (2019.5.5). This badge, found in the ruins of the Fort around 1925, was worn by a soldier of the 26th Regiment of Foot, which garrisoned Fort Ticonderoga when it was captured by Benedict Arnold and Ethan Allen in 1775. Come visit Fort Ticonderoga in 2020 and see it as part of the new exhibiti, A Well Regulated Milita: Citizen, Soldier and State.
